Programme Specific Outcome

M.Sc. Mathematics

Upon completing the M. Sc degree in the field of Mathematics, students have/capable of:

• A solid understanding of graduate level algebra, analysis and topology.

• Using their mathematical knowledge to analyse certain problems in day-to-day life.

• Identifying unsolved yet relevant problems in a specific field.

• Undertaking original research on a particular topic.

• Communicate mathematics accurately and effectively in both written and oral form.

• Conducting scholarly or professional activities in an ethical manner.